

Community & Recreation Services Director

City of Union City, CA

Imagine the impact you could have as the leader in community wellness, engagement, and recreation in one of the Bay Area's most inclusive and vibrant cities. The City of Union City is looking for a visionary and motivated professional to step into the role of Community & Recreation Services Director. In this position, you will be at the forefront of innovative, award-winning programs and services that support recreation, arts, culture, youth services, homelessness support, and more, all aimed at improving lives and strengthening the social fabric of Union City.

Union City is home to 65,000 residents and offers small-town charm with access to major Bay Area hubs like San Francisco, Oakland, and Silicon Valley. With beautiful open spaces, 33 parks, and a diverse population, the city thrives on compassion, inclusion, and opportunity.

The ideal candidate is a passionate, people-oriented leader with strong community service and recreation management experience. You bring fresh ideas, are expert at building connections with diverse stakeholders, and can navigate the complexities of managing staff, budgets, and long-term planning. You will help drive the department's mission while supporting vital community resources like a senior center, swim complex, and youth services programs.

A typical way to demonstrate the knowledge, skills, and abilities required for this position would be to possess a Bachelor's Degree in Public Administration, Social Work, Recreation Management, or a related field and at least five years of progressively responsible experience, including supervisory roles. Experience with social services, homelessness programs, and grant writing is highly desirable. The annual salary for this position ranges from $203,388 to $243,840, negotiable based on experience, with an excellent benefits package.

If you are passionate about making a meaningful difference in a dynamic community, apply now to become Union City's next Community & Recreation Services Director!
